Designer: looking for your help!

Dearest Designers,

this year the Master Engineers of Politecnico di Como are happy to announce the third edition of the university magazine E-Mag!

What is E-Mag?

E-Mag is the magazine of Politecnico di Milano in Como Campus. It represents the students of Politecnico di Como and aims at putting the diversity existing among them at first place, as a source of development for new ideas and solutions.

What do we need?

Actually, our editing staff has written several articles, travel reports and resume of E-Mag's activities. We are all Engineers, with a certain creativity in writing, but... for the graphical design we need your help to put our articles on paper.

To do so, we kindly ask You to give your availability to:

- Design the cover of E-Mag (following some basic indications by our staff);
- Design the frame of our articles, respecting the structure of our texts and content of chapters (contest list will be provided);
- Provide interesting graphical solutions to enrich our articles.

Which are our requirements?

We need to have a magazine:

- In A5 horizontal format (height: 148 mm × width: 210 mm);
- Whose cover page mirrors the one of first issue (details: <http://www.ciren.eu/content/e-mag-2012-0>), but you are free to modify the drawing;
- Whose number of pages is multiple of 4, covers comprised;
- Theoretically, we do not have limits in pages numbers.

Which is the delivery time?

Delivery time for all the design stuff is 10 June 2012.

Thank you for your help, we really believe in You!
